

2008 Cal Poly Pomona Faculty Summer Institute for
Online and Blended Course Development:
Application

Part I. To be filled out by each applicant

Name:

Academic Department:
College:

Phone:

E-mail:

---

Course Number (e.g., EGR103):

Course Title:

Please respond to the following questions in a single-spaced narrative not to exceed two pages:

1. What are your reasons for wanting to develop and teach an online course? In what ways would your course, as an online or blended course, have a positive impact on your students?
2. Comment on how your participation in the Summer Institute would benefit your teaching and potentially benefit teaching and learning for faculty and students in your department or program. Have you had any previous experience using technology in your teaching? In what ways do you think the use of learning technologies would be beneficial for you and your students?

Part II. To be filled out by Academic Unit Heads, Program Directors, Deans

Statement of Support

I support the development of this online course and agree that, should this proposal be accepted, it will be offered at least in one quarter during the 2008/2009 academic year.

_____
Department Chair

_____
Date

_____
Dean

_____
Date

Please submit your application with the appropriate signatures above to the I&IT Learning Department either in person or via campus mail.

Applications must be received by I&IT Learning by 12:00 noon, May 2, 2008.

Attn: Hye Ok Park, Director of Learning, Division of I&IT, California State Polytechnic University, Pomona